NUNTON VILLAGE

So where does the name Nunton come from?

From the earliest times Bodenham and Nunton seem to be referred to as virtually equivalent, but of course they are not. It seems that the suffix ‘ton’ relates to the Old English term for an enclosed village, farmstead or manor from about the 7th Century onward. The origins of Nun may be more obscure, with a possibility that there was a convent in the area at about the time of the Norman Invasion.

It is a long and strung out village, graced by a great pub with a lovely garden for fine summer evenings, and a relatively modern St Andrew’s Church. Although the Church does have 12th Century origins it was largely rebuilt in the 1850’s.

The Martin family supplies milk from their dairy herd at the pub which is really fresh with a proper head of cream on it, but which the bluetits cannot get to!

There is also a Manor House, Nunton House, which was built in 1720, by the local farmer’s future son in law (Lower Nunton Farmhouse was quite a lot earlier), allegedly fulfilling the requirement to "build a lovely house next door to parents". It was built adjoining but facing AWAY from mother in law!

The house was occupied by many different people over the years including the Batt and Buckley families. However, during World War 2 it fell into disrepair and was bought in 1945 by Captain Clarence RN, who was somewhat of an eccentric. He was a keen a bird fancier who put big aviaries in the garden and utterly neglected the house itself. It had no heating at that time and was kept tolerable by oil stoves which ran so hot they burned holes in the wooden floors.

It was bought it in 1954 by Julia Joynt’s parents. Four lorry loads of wire netting were removed from the garden and the badly damaged panelling was laid out on the lawn, repaired and put back, and is still there. The village was up in arms as they thought it was going to be scrapped!

Update

The summer months are some of the busiest months of the year on the Estate for many of the teams.

On the farms the calves are growing fast and suckling from the cows whilst the bulls were turned out at the end of June. We had a TB test at the end of June and thankfully we went clear again this time which means we are back on annual testing rather than six monthly.

In the fields, crops have been maturing and we started combining on 15 July. The winter barley was the first to be cut and both varieties performed well. Oilseed rape was next and the yield was not unsurprisingly disappointing and we are now reviewing our options carefully to try and get a true break crop that will provide a suitable alternative both agronomically, environmentally and financially. To me it always feels like harvest has started properly when you start combining wheat and this started on 2 August, yields are good so far. Our peas were desiccated but the inclement weather has halted combining but hopefully by mid August we will back combining in earnest and be reinforced with a second combine. We will start with the peas then spring barley ahead of oilseed rape being planted, finish the wheat and pick up the oats. Still a lot to do!

Early July was busy as we hosted a schools day where seven schools brought groups of children to see the Estate, all of our different teams where involved as well as other friends of the Estate to give the children an insight into life in the countryside. On the same day we held a farm walk in aid of RABI and the Addington Fund, where we raised £1,300 for the two farming charities. The weather was perfect and with over a hundred people in attendance we were able to explain what we do across the whole Estate rather than just the farms.

Our fish farms, however, want the complete opposite to our arable enterprise at this time of year; warm wet weather is the ideal as the fish can eat well and grow, too hot and they stop eating. With water temperatures rising quickly in June and early July this was a real threat to production. Mid August has of course seen this change with better water temperatures and more rain. This has possibly been the best trout season in the last 16 years, we are not sure why, but there has been a good fly hatch including Mayfly.

We have completed the refurbishment of a number of properties. We have regular emails asking about the availability of our houses and cottages, this is a reflection of the high standard of work our maintenance team and contractors work to, in providing quality places that prospective tenants want to live in.

Our woods team have now finished a major thinning exercise in a difficult woodland area, due to its historic and environmental credentials. It has been inspected by Natural England who were delighted with what our teams have achieved. Whilst we have all been enjoying the warm weather and being outside, orders for logs to keep you warm during the winter months have already started coming in.

Radnor Hall Centenary

This month the Radnor Hall celebrates 100 years of village use. The Hall was originally built in 1893 for the house, stables and garden staff by the Earl of Radnor, however, possibly due to staff reductions in the aftermath of the First World War, the Hall was first leased to the newly formed Radnor Hall Committee as a village hall on the 29 September 1919. We will be celebrating this in November as part of our village show activities.

A special note to our readers - by the Editor

I have received a lot of positive feedback about the new, smaller format for the News & Notes, thank you. It is both cheaper to produce and easier for the volunteers who deliver it to handle, so a real win-win situation.

Please thank those who deliver your News and Notes. They are all volunteers who give generously of their time and energy to make sure you receive your copy. Some of you might sling it straight in the bin, others use it only to look at the adverts, while others peruse it from cover to cover, but please acknowledge their service to you and give them a warm smile.

Please let us have your comments or articles via our email address.

Reflection - ‘THRIVE’
By Revd Anna-Claar

I have been in the Chalke Valley for one year. Looking back and looking forward I am most excited about a group called Thrive. With some people from the villages we have joined this Course for rural churches to think about the future. What would you like the church to do in your community in seven years? Who do you imagine will be participating in church activities in seven years? How would you like the services at your church to look like in seven years?

The goal of ‘Thrive’ is to have a thriving sustainable Christian presence in every village in the future so that all the people in the valley may know that they are loved by God.

When we are busy with this we have to remember that the love of God is often deeply different to how we tend to think. That is why we have created a special prayer for the Harvest season:

"Heavenly Father. We pray for every part of our Chalke Valley Benefice that we may learn from each other and support each other as brothers and sisters in your family. In this time of fruitfulness in our gardens, we ask that you will be fruitful in our lives and help us to grow in our faith. We pray in confidence that you will help us to thrive as a Christian community. In Jesus name, Amen”

How do you think the church should look in seven years?
Please feel free to contact me with questions, answers, prayers or something else. Phone: 01722 238267; e-mail: anna-claar.cvb@myphone.coop. Shalom (peace and goodwill). Anna-Claar

Late spring and the summer months are some of the busiest months of the year on the Estate for many of the teams.

On the farms the calves are growing fast suckling from the cows and the bulls were turned out at the end of June so we should start calving again in April. We had a TB test at the end of June and thankfully we went clear again this time which means we are back on annual testing rather than six monthly. The process of testing is a stressful time for both the cattle and the staff as animals have to mustered from around the Estate and put through the handling pens twice in a week. Mentally for the team it is exhausting as cows can be fiercely protective with their calves at foot in a much more enclosed environment and the worry that we might be prevented from moving any animals with the exception of direct to slaughter, especially if this is for a prolonged period as we would then end up with a lot of mouths to feed.

In the fields crops have been maturing and we started combining on 15 July. The winter barley was the first to be cut and both varieties performed well albeit the older one had smaller grains than we would like. Oilseed rape was next and the yield was not unsurprisingly disappointing and we are reviewing our options carefully to try and get a true break crop that will provide a suitable alternative both agronomically, environmentally and financially. To me it always feels like harvest has started properly when you start combining wheat and for the Estate that started on 2 August, yields are good so far. Our peas were desiccated but the inclement weather has halted combining but hopefully this week (w/c 19 August) we will back combining in earnest and be reinforced with a second combine, we will start with the peas then into the spring barley ahead of oilseed rape being planted, finish the wheat and pick up the oats. Still a lot to do!

Early July was a busy time as we hosted a schools day where seven schools brought groups of children to see the Estate, all of different teams where involved in the day as well as other friends of the Estate to give the children an insight into life in the countryside. On the same day we held a farm walk in aid of RABI and the Addington Fund, where we raised £1,300 for the two farming charities. The weather was perfect and with over a hundred people in attendance were able to explain what we do across the whole Estate rather than just the farms.

Our fish farms want the complete opposite to our arable enterprise at this time of year, warm wet weather is the ideal as the fish can eat well and grow, too hot and they stop eating. With water temperatures rising quickly in early late June and early July this was a real threat to production, the lack of rain and reducing water levels is another concern to this enterprise both of these we as a business can do little to mitigate for though. Mid August has of course seen this change with better water temperatures and more rain.

Possibly the best trout season in the last 16 years on the river has been had this year, the reason why we don’t entirely know but there has been a good fly hatch including Mayfly, Ranunculus weed growth this year has propped up the river level and spawning this year was good in part due to the short heat wave that we experienced which has culminated in a great season to date. The coarse fishing season has started well with some good sized Barbel being caught early in August and some good chub showing as well.

We have undertaken the complete refurbishment of a number of properties in recent months, and our annual schedule of external painting and roof repairs is well underway. We are fortunate to have regular emails asking about the availability of our houses and cottages, this is a reflection of the standard of work our maintenance team and contractors work to in providing quality places that prospective tenants want to live in.

Our woods team have now finished a major thinning exercise in a difficult woodland area, due to its historic and environmental credentials. It has been inspected by Natural England who were delighted with what they have achieved.

Whilst we have all been enjoying the warm weather and being outside, orders for logs to keep you warm during the winter months have already started coming in.
